Choose the mood first, then keep the logistics from becoming the third person on the date.

USE THIS WHEN

You want the outing to feel intentional without turning dinner and a walk into a logistics project.

Miami Date Night Planner

Use the row that sounds most like the day in front of you. The goal is not maximum coverage. It is a cleaner first decision.

CHOICE	USE IT WHEN...
Waterfront and slower	Coconut Grove or Key Biscayne when atmosphere matters more than range.
Polished and easy	Coral Gables when the meal and stroll should feel orderly.
Urban and modern	Brickell for skyline, dinner, and a compact city rhythm.

ONE RULE THAT SAVES THE PLAN

The best date plan usually has one mood, one anchor, and one optional finish.

Before You Go

CHECK THESE FIRST

- ☐ Choose the mood before choosing the venue.
- ☐ Keep the walking and parking load appropriate.
- ☐ Make the meal reservation if needed.
- ☐ Add only one optional after-dinner move.
- ☐ Know the easy exit if weather or energy changes.

IF THE DAY SHIFTS

If the original plan gets complicated, simplify to one good meal in the same mood category.

FAST EXIT CUE

If the optional part starts to feel like obligation, cut it before relocating the whole outing.

WRITE THE PLAN

Mood: _____

Main anchor: _____

Optional finish: _____
